Fully searchable, open digital repository at your fingertips

Beyond the shock wave of Vatican II, the 1960s is a decade of American history that has perennial interest to students and scholars. Whether learning about the Civil Rights movement, the assassinations of Dr. King or the Kennedys, controversies at the Democratic National Conventions of '64 and '68, anti-war and anti-draft protests, the Cold War, Vietnam, Cuba, Woodstock or the moon landing, the Catholic News Archive offers primary sources with alternative and often opposing views that can enrich research into issues and events reported — and sometimes unreported — in U.S. mass media.

It isn't only the '60s or United States history. The digitized news sources at thecatholicnewsarchive.org give an exceptional perspective on society and culture, and provide insights and facts about various contemporary episodes of world history and the people who shaped them, from the Great Depression and World War II to the end of the Cold War and incidents of the early 21st century.

- Learn unique and alternative perspectives on issues and events
- Built with the researcher in mind
- Over 14,900 issues and growing
- Freely available to all
- Mobile friendly
- Average of 5,480 users per month in 2019
- Digitized for access and preservation
- All simply for the sake of scholarship

We invite you to share this information with your campus. For more details or to submit a story about the Catholic News Archive, contact CRRA: Meghan McGrath, mmcgrath@catholicresearch.org; Jennifer Younger, jyounger@catholicresearch.org; Todd Jensen, tjensen@catholicresearch.org

Visit the Website

Other Resources

The Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities offers an array of publications and other resources for scholars. Purchase discounts available for ACCU member institutions!

Browse ACCU Publications