

Liturgical Art in the Catholic Portal

Presented by Jency Liddell,
Catholic Research Resources
Alliance

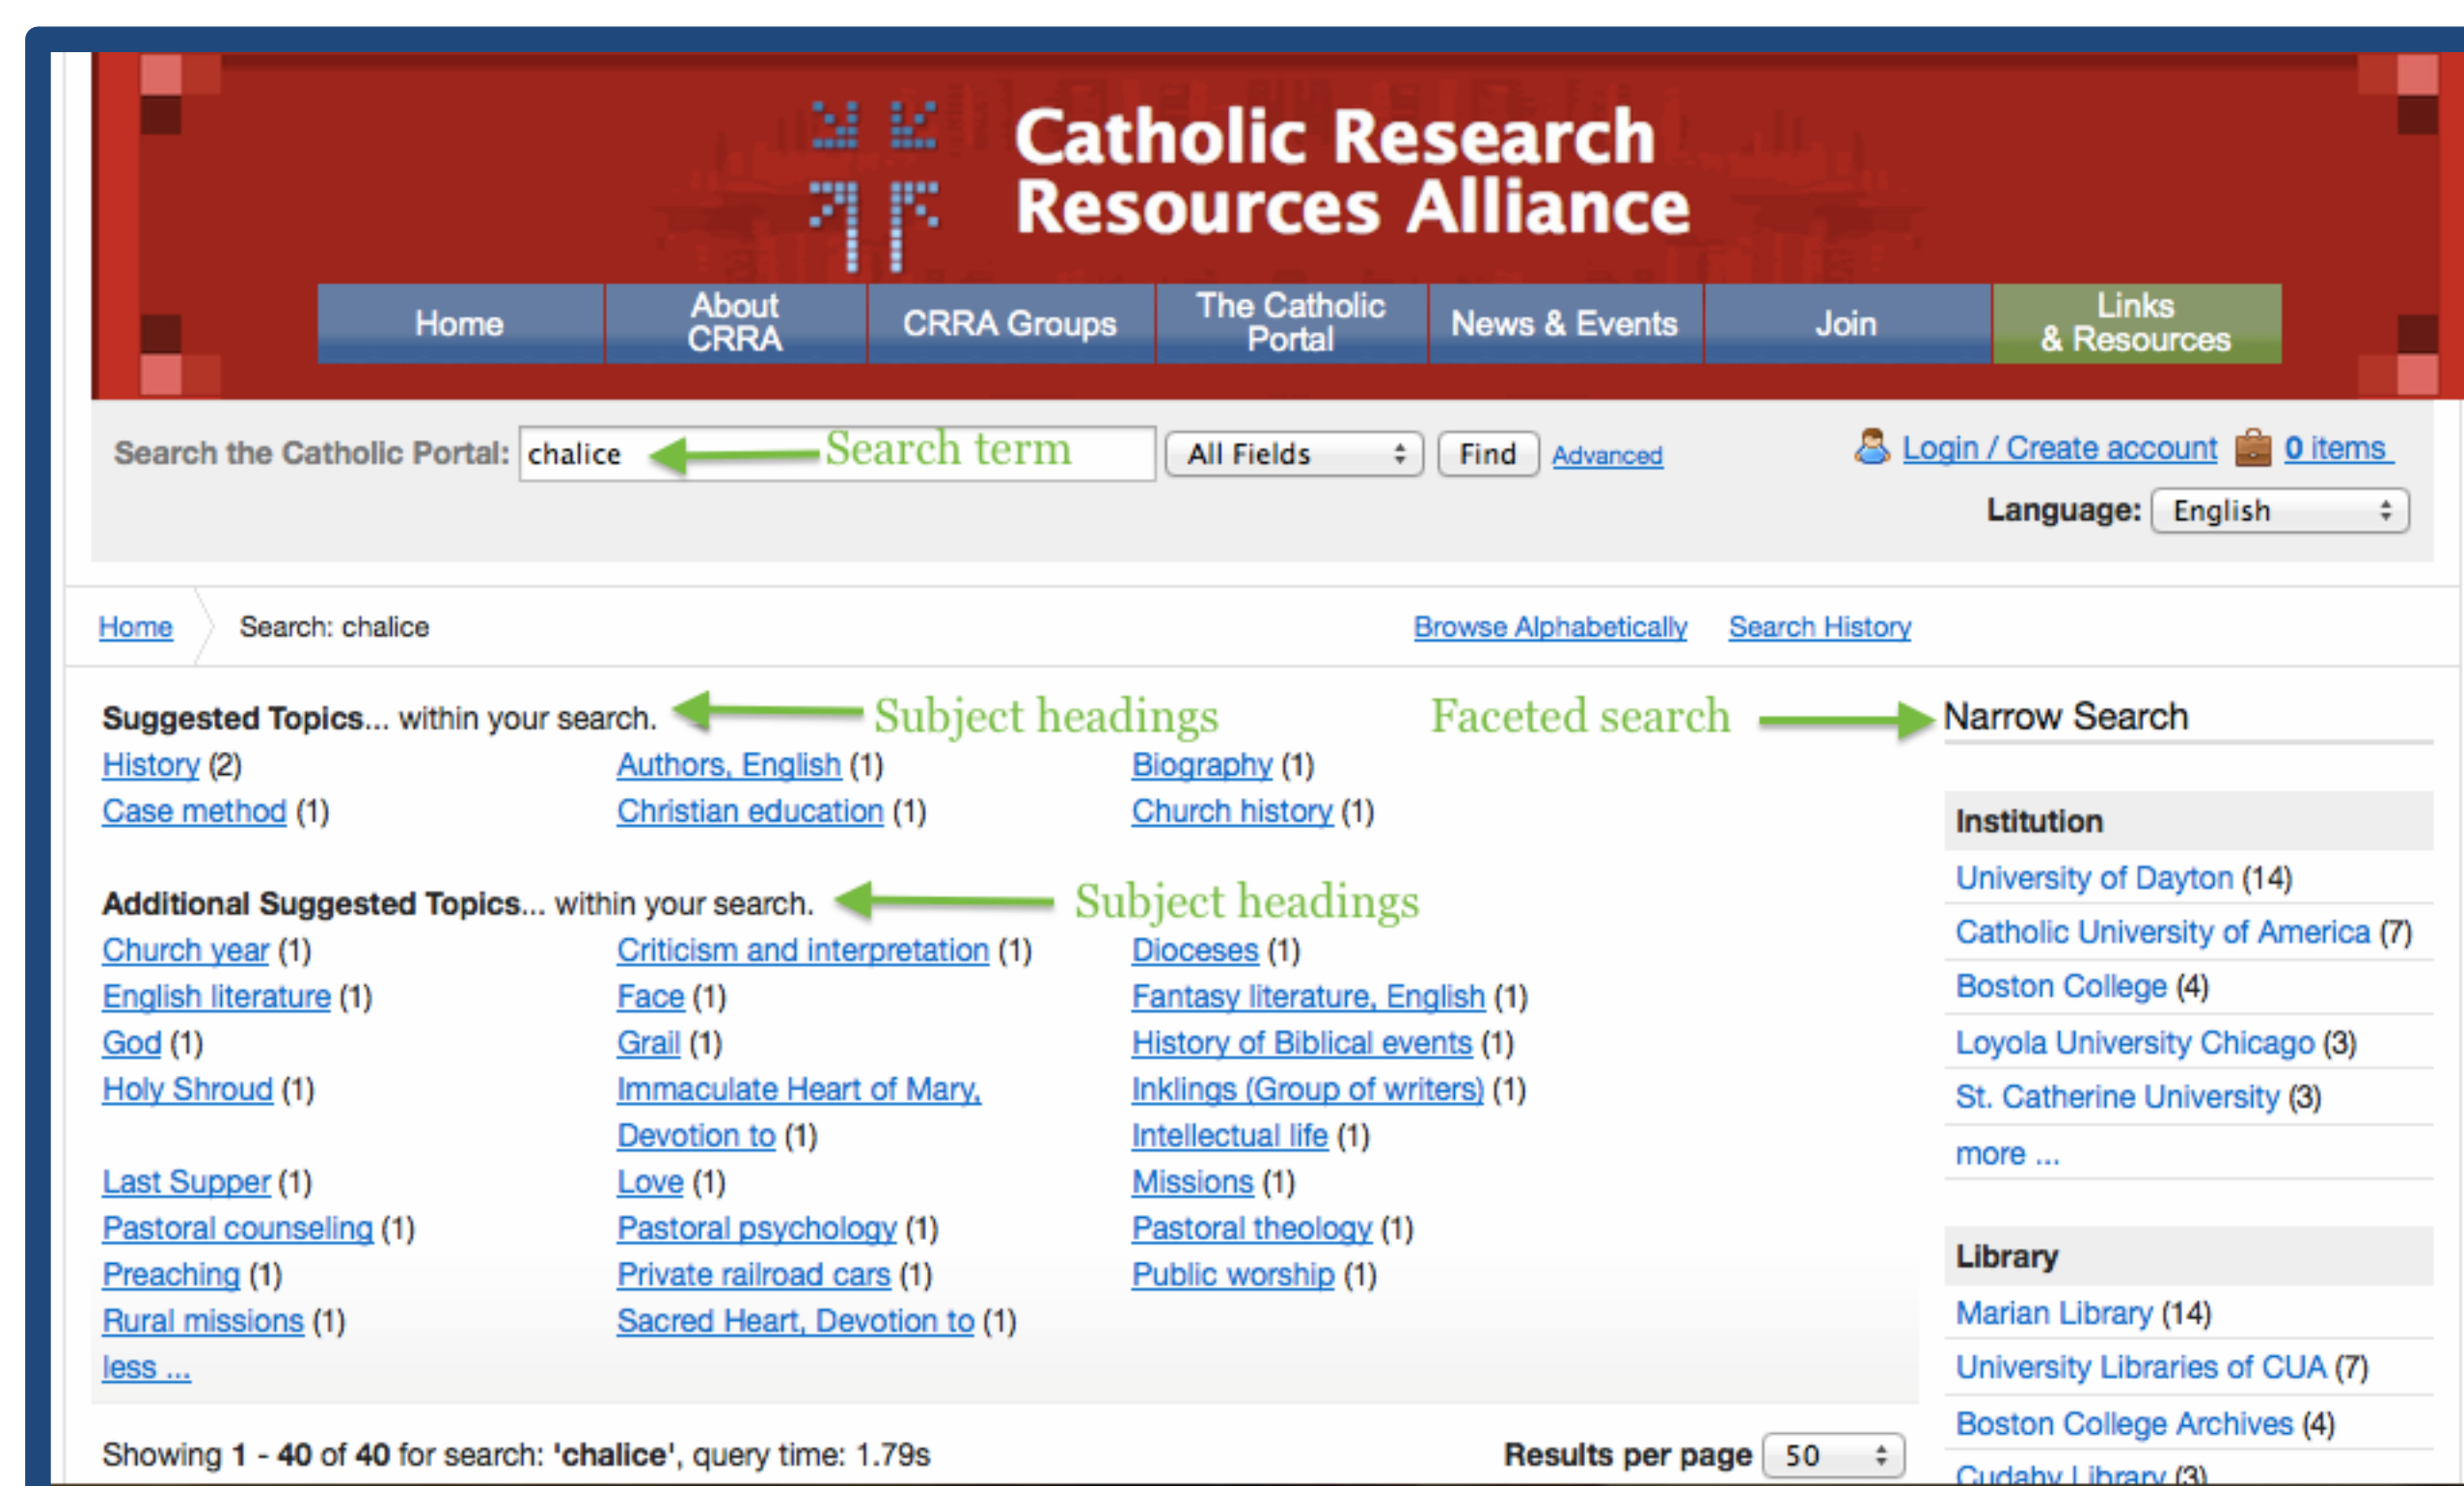

This poster covers the CRRA's holdings in the Catholic Portal related to liturgical art. The poster showcases member collections on liturgical art and demonstrates the value of using the Catholic Portal as a resource for scholars, students, professors, archivists, librarians, and others to discover rich, substantive records that furthers their research. Along with the poster, there is a live demo of how to search and utilize the Catholic Portal to locate records and resources at CRRA member institutions.

What is the Catholic Portal?

- Provides free access to rare and uncommon materials.
- Materials are from member and partner institutions and represent the CRRA's 12 collecting themes and beyond.
- Portal records are contributed by CRRA members and partners.
- The Portal uses the open source application VuFind to index and search the metadata records describing members' rare, unique, and uncommon materials.
- Search results include a variety of Web 2.0 features for users.

Searching

- Enter your initial search term like any other search bar.
- Option to create an account, which lets you save searches and view search history.
- Web 2.0 Features like generating citations, tagging, exporting the record, etc.

Filtering

- Results Page:
  - Narrow search through suggested topics (subject headings).
  - Narrow search through faceted browser.
- Record Entry:
  - Lists related subject headings.
  - Lists authors.

Accessing

Depends upon the record

- Record entry: Online Access field contains link.
- Record entry: Holdings tab provides location information.
- Record entry and results page: Icons to indicate online access.

Sharing

- Links to records can be shared through texts or emails.
- The CRRA has made the HTML code available to share the Catholic Portal Search Bar.
- With this code, the search bar can be placed on any website and researchers can enter queries.
